MobiWork® Recognized as “Field Services Company of the Year” by CIOReview

Boca Raton FL, December 7, 2020: MobiWork®, a leading provider of end-to-end mobile workforce solutions for any business with a mobile workforce today announced that it has been recognized as the “Field Services Company of the Year” by CIO Review as part of its 2020 Field Service solution providers review.

CIO Review is a leading technology magazine that is at the forefront of guiding enterprises through the continuously varying business environment with information about the solutions and services. “We are elated to announce that MobiWork has been selected as our 2020 Field Services Company of the Year. MobiWork has shone through for their excellence in providing mobile workforce software solutions for any business with employees in the field,” said Justin Smith, Managing Editor of CIO Review.

“Running an organization with employees or contractors in the field on a regular basis is not a simple task. Companies worldwide are faced every single day with unique challenges that are not addressed properly by traditional web-based software solutions. MobiWork® is dedicated to solve those problems by providing state-of-the-art, powerful yet easy to learn and use smartphone and cloud-based software solutions that drastically change the way they operate and deliver value to their customers.” explains Hervé Rivere, founder and CEO of MobiWork.

“Receiving this prestigious award demonstrates that MobiWork® is at the forefront of innovation and technology and that our vision of becoming a leading provider of mobile workforce and field services software solutions has turned into reality” said Hervé Rivere. “We are very thankful to our loyal clients, partners and team for allowing us to reach this major milestone in our growth.”
